20-minute read · Topics: All of the above, plus technicals, options, ratings, week-ahead

TL;DR & Editorial Take

The US market rallied on the back of strong tech performance, with the NVDA and AMZN leading the charge. The 10Y yield fell by -0.27%, while the DXY rose by +0.03%.

Key takeaways include:

- The Nasdaq 100 surged +2.48%, driven by tech stocks.
- The S&P 500 rose +1.08%, with the Dow Jones up +0.14%.
- The VIX fell by -11.06%, indicating decreased market volatility.

The rally in tech stocks was driven by strong earnings reports and positive guidance. However, the market remains volatile, and investors should be cautious of potential risks.

The editorial take is that the market is due for a correction, given the recent surge in tech stocks. Investors should be prepared for a potential pullback and consider hedging their positions.
